

Hellenic Bank: The Safest Bank in Cyprus

The Global Finance magazine named Hellenic Bank as the safest bank in Cyprus. According to the magazine, “Banks were selected through an evaluation of long-term credit ratings—from Moody’s, Standard & Poor’s and Fitch—and total assets of the 1000 largest banks worldwide”.

Joseph D. Giarraputo, publisher and editorial director of Global Finance stated: “Geopolitical risk is rising in some markets and new regulations are causing corporates to re-evaluate their banking relationships worldwide. It is essential for companies to have a clear view on the strength and stability of their banking partners.”

“Global Finance’s Safest Banks By Country ranking provides an objective tool for benchmarking and analysis on a country-by-country basis.” Joseph D. Giarraputo, Global Finance

...and the Best Internet Bank...

This was the second time, very recently, Hellenic Bank received an accolade from the magazine. As already reported, Global Finance also named Hellenic Net Banking as the best in Cyprus in two categories: (a) The Best Consumer Internet Bank and (b) The Best Corporate/Institutional Internet Bank. The selection criteria were strength of strategy for attracting and servicing online customers, success in getting clients to use web offerings, growth of online customers, breadth of product offerings, evidence of tangible benefits gained from Internet initiatives and web site design and functionality.

Founded in 1987, Global Finance has a circulation of 50,050 and readers in 180 countries. It is headquartered in New York with offices in London and Milan.
